NEW EDUCATIONAL MATERIALS

We use primary resources from the National Archives and other sources to create engaging lesson plans and videos that bring history to life in your classroom. Our materials cover topics including the Electoral College, Women's Suffrage, and more, giving you the tools to teach history confidently.

UNIQUE LEARNING OPPORTUNITIES

Discover our Teaching the Constitution Through Theater series, where we partner with StoryWorks, playwrights, educators, and historians to create exciting plays that incorporate primary source materials. These plays provide a unique opportunity for your students to learn about history through theatre.

GROW YOUR TEACHING TOOLKIT

Join us for free workshops and teaching institutes where you can gain fresh insights, curriculum ideas, and free teaching materials. Connect with educators from all over the country and learn from scholars as they share their research findings.

ABOUT US

For more than 60 years, the U.S. Capitol Historical Society has proudly worked to preserve and share the history of the Capitol, the Congress, and the people who work therein. As a nonpartisan, educational 501(c)3 nonprofit organization, the Society was chartered by Congress in 1978, in part, "to foster and increase an informed patriotism." In service of this mission, the Society conducts historical tours of the Capitol Building, hosts both virtual and in-person public history programming, publishes scholarly research in various aspects of Capitol History, coordinates an open-access civics education digital resource hub, manages a renowned civics education field trip program for D.C. public school students, and commissions works of fine art for the Capitol collections.

JOIN US ON THIS EDUCATIONAL JOURNEY!

With our resources at your disposal,
teaching history has never been easier.
